

Adding Cost Centres

The PERDIXPro platform provides functionality to add cost centres. This is a useful feature if an account has a large number of devices in their device inventory, and usage costs against those devices and other platform subscriptions need to be applied to specific departments or projects.

Once cost centres are created, they will then be available to select across the various subscription packages on the platform.

For example, when selecting a subscription plan for a device, you will have the option to apply the cost to the account (i.e. Organisation) or to a cost centre through a drop down selection.
